The Standard Oil president is worth

$125,000,000.

The Iowa democrats have declared

for high license and expect victory

thereby.

The Chicago authorities have declared that a license cannot be issued to a saloon on wheels.

The LaPrairie News, a new venture, has been received. The paper is readable and well patronized.

A school treasurer named Franti,

in Wadena county, is $900 behind in his accounts and has been arrested.

The great premier, Sir John Mc-

Donald, did not leave a great estate,

$90,000 and Earncliffe hall being the extent.

LIBERTY HALL, one of the oldest

Minnesota newspaper men and formerly of Glencoe, died at Kansas City on Wednesday.

AFTER Ignatius Donnelly organizes

his people's party for Minnesota on July 7th, it will be just as well for the other parties to lie down.

The Anoka Herald gives A. Y. Morrell a nice little roast in its last issue,

and as that place was the gentleman's former home there must be some truth in the article.

SEVERAL Italians will cease selling

bananas and peanuts and start a macaroni factory in St. Paul. The institution will have a capacity of thirty barrels a day which has been contracted for by wholesalers.

Up at Superior it is dangerous for a

Duluth man to be abroad after nightfall. The newspapers are calling up on the people to oust all Duluth men who are in business there, and still the war goes on.

Miss Kate Rann, the only surviving daughter of the late Major Rann

whose family was drowned at Lake

Minnetonka, is to be married in London on Wednesday to Ponsonby Ogles,

editor of the London Globe.

The brewers of the Twin cities have failed or refused to put up the license money for many of the saloon men in these cities, and as a consequence

there will be a reduction in the number of grog shops.

It is true that the Kansas farmer's alliance has issued an edict that all judicial candidates in that state be pledged not to confirm mortgage sales, on penalty of losing the support of the alliance, it is time the leaders

were placed in some private lunatic asylum.

The Lake Bruce claims that Bro.

Stivers is a trifle previous in assuming to know what course the alliance will take next year, and claims that instead of confiding with the democrats

every bourgeois will be obliged to vote

a straight alliance ticket. It is peculiar how great minds differ.

The democratic press in various parts of the state are not at all quiet

in their denunciation of State Auditor

Biermann for numerous official acts.

A leading paper at Crookston says:

"Biermann was the only democrat elected on the state ticket when he should have been the only one de-fected."

DELEWARE is no longer a trapper, as a law has been enacted that all vagabonds and vagrants who come tramping along into the state may be arrested and put to work breaking stone for road-mending, for sixty days, and if refractory they can be consigned to a solitary cell and put on bread and water.

No Show for the Native.

"What office are you a candidate for?" inquired the reporter who was making his hasty rounds. "Me!" exclaimed the man leaning up against the door frame. "Thunder! I ain't running for anything; I was born in this country."

G. A. R. Encampment.

MOTLEY, Minn., July 2.—[Special.]

The first day of the G. A. R. Encampment here opened up in grand shape with a large crowd, and the city is alive to the fact that this is to be the largest encampment of the season. The town is beautifully decorated with magnificent flags, flags and other decorations. Several noted heroes are here and on the 3rd and 4th will undoubtedly be the greatest reunion the old soldiers have had for years.

Who Slugged Him.

Charles Anderson, the man found injured last week, about two miles west of town, is still at the North Star hotel. He is not expected to recover, and may not live but a few days. He has regained consciousness at intervals. He stated that he did not know how he was injured; that his parents

live in Norway, and that he has a brother living in Juneauville, Wis.

There is not the least doubt but that

Anderson was slugged by someone,

but who that person is may never be known.—Wadena Tribune.

Disobeyed the Judge.

Maurice Durum, who was shot by Emma Schmidt at Minneapolis, has sued her for $10,000 damages. Judge

Smith instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff. The jury found for the defendant and the court at once set the verdict aside. It will be remembered that shortly after

Durum was married Miss Schmidt called at his house and shot him for seducing her under promise of marriage. She was tried for attempted murder and acquitted. Then she sued him for seduction and got judgment for a large amount. Then he sued her for damages for being shot.—

New Way to Sweep.

A genius, with a profound thought,

has taken up the subject of dusting and sweeping by means of suction draughts. He has a patent on a machine which, by means of fans and hydraulic pressure, gets a draught

through a spiral hose, with a nozzle, shaped at its terminus like the double-end of a trombone. He starts up a grand stir on the carpet till the dust

flies, then turns on the blizzard machine and a condensed cyclone is immediately precipitated. He moves his hose and nozzle, and wherever the cloud of dust arises the suction of his mechanism draws it and it immediately goes "up the spout," so to speak.

The idea is all right, the only difficulty which stands in the way is the possibility of his getting too big a draught

on and shooting in stray leaves from the family text book, odd socks or sister's bangs.

Put Your Baby in a Bag.

The German way of dressing a young baby is droll, but has something to be said for it as to health and comfort. The tenderling is snugly put in a wadded silk bag, which ties around the neck, leaving arms and legs free but perfectly protected from the wind, which is more than can be said for our long cloaks, with their widths of generous camel's hair in the skirt.

The Spanish state dress for infants has the object laid on a pillow or small matress, longer than the child at each end, and the shawl frontal of embroidery and point lace is merely laid over and tied with ribbons, or fastened to the head with a ribbon.

Back to the robe at all. At least this takes the weight off the creature condemned to wear it.

HUMBERT possesses all the slyness of the late J. Edgar Hoover. He now is seeking to replenish his empty treasury by advertising a grand spectacular performance by old Vesuvius.

There seems to be a revival of baseball enthusiasm in the large cities. When 20,000 people attend a single game it must be admitted that there is no immediate danger that the sport will fall into decay and eventually become obsolete.

A COAST GUARD attached an engine on the Missouri Pacific's fast express, and held the train three hours at Eades, in Kiowa county, Colorado. He had a gunsmith against a railroad employee for $17.50, which the road had neglected to settle.

The Sultan may not be much on the high moral plane business, but he has prohibited Turkish ladies from trotting around the streets of Constantinople in tight and gorgeous Persian costumes. He has been wearing what Turkish dresses and chicks of bonnets cost.

HAVING been whipped by Slavin, Kilrain will retire from pugilism. This is a distinct gain. If every defeated prizefighter would follow this example and the last winner would go and drown himself the civilized portion of the world would have reason to rejoice.

A MAN dropped dead in an Iowa church on a recent Sunday just as he was putting his hand in his pocket at the approach of the contribution box. Possibly the mental struggle over the question whether he should take out the nickel or one-cent piece killed him.

BALMACEIDA, president of Chile, has left an order with the American Bank Note Company of New York for the printing of $12,000,000 worth of flat money. As Mr. Balmaceda is in a position to put a bayonet behind each of his bank bills they will undoubtedly make Chile richer and more prosperous.

Nor two years ago Carnicena, the little and willowy Spanish dancing girl, came to New York without a dollar or a second suit to her back. She has danced her way into popularity and a great big fortune as well, and yet there are people so low-spirited as to maintain that it does not pay to kick!

It is said that much dissatisfaction, leading in some cases to "seditious language," has been observable in the upper districts of Guatemala; all because President Anguiano has compelled the laboring population to work on his coffee plantations against their will and without compensation. What an unreasonable people some of these Guatemalans are, to be sure!

As Iowa murder, through the untiring efforts of the lawyer, has been able to cheat the gallows and penitentiary since 1877, when his crime was committed. It is sure, however, that the man has been in constant touch with a lawyer of that kind for fourteen years without considerable retribution having been meted out to him.

As between the Prince of Wales and Sir Gordon Cumming, time will be all on the side of the Prince and against the other man. It will be remembered of the one that he was mixed up in some gambling business, and of the other that there was some story of his cheating at cards. One memory will not hurt a man much; the other is deadly. Time is not injustice.

WILDER, the western humorist, says that in appreciating good jokes a crowd of newshounds is quicker and more intelligent than ever met. At a point, gesture or shade of inflection escapes these alert little nomads, while on the other hand many fashionable assemblages are chilly and unresponsive until you break the crust of reserve or indifference as if with a sledge hammer.

Mr. KILRAIN of Baltimore stood up or tried to, through nine rounds at Hoboken, N. J., while Mr. Slavin, from the antipodes, lit him in the face, broke his nose and otherwise manifested contempt for him. We do not know that Mr. Slavin is entitled to any increased respect on this account, however. What he did could have been much more easily accomplished by a stalwart mule or a muscarrule, even though these animals have too much self-respect to do what Kilrain and Slavin did.

Among the many interesting things to be seen and heard at the recent Universal Postal Congress held at Vienna, was an exhibit showing the gradual growth of the postal service from the days of the Roman Empire to the present time. From a report of the exhibition, which has been sent to this country, it appears that many important subjects were discussed at this session of the congress, which will be of value, in still further improving the postal service of the world. The next congress will be held at Washington, D. C. in 1897.

There is hardly a new hotel or business building in New York but that is advertised as fireproof, and yet a leading architect told a Herald reporter that such a thing could not exist. "They may be fireproof to all intents and purposes," said he, "but if inflammable material be in them and it get afire the iron girders and beams will so expand that they will let the floor above down. When one floor falls in an iron beamed building they will all go, and then the side walls fall. The run is usually more complete than it is in an ordinary building. We do not build those iron fireproof fronts any more, because in case of a fire they fall forward and demolish the building around the street."

With the five points given the successful candidate will have to secure only 70 to insure his promotion.

WAR ON THE IRISH. Another Memorial on Catholic Emigration to America Presented to the Papal Secretary.

Recommendations for the Appointment of Many Catholic Bishops in the United States.

BELLEVILLE, July 1.—Copies of the full text of the second memorial presented by Herr Cahensly to the papal secretary, Cardinal Rampulla, have been published in the press.

The greatest importance is attached to the memorial. It is as it is hoped, the hope can be induced to follow out its recommendations and appoint a large number of German clergymen as bishops in the United States.

The German influence across the Atlantic will be vastly increased and will be the growth of the German government in American affairs.

Herr Cahensly, indeed, appeals for aid to foreign governments, Italy, Austria, Spain and Russia, promising them in return a due share of the prestige which will come from a division of the episcopal sees.

The different classes of immigrants. It is left here, nevertheless, that the lion's share will fall to the lot of the emigre.

As a proven by the text of the memorial: Most eminent Lord. We come to humbly appeal to your excellency for the most energetic support of the cause of the emigrants.

The following are the chief causes of this emigration: First, the lack of sufficient protection for the emigrants at sea.

Second, the insufficiency of priests and pastors for the different nationalities of emigrants.

Third, the pecuniary sacrifices, often enormous, which the emigrants are called upon to make.

Fourth, the public schools, which are often insufficient for the needs of the emigrants.

FROM DESERT TO LAKE. The Colorado Desert Rapidly Filling Up With Water.

YUMA, Ariz., July 1.—The Colorado desert basin at Salton, 25 miles west of Yuma, is rapidly filling up with water from a subterranean channel believed to be connected with the Colorado river.

Colonel Geo. Canfield is better appreciated in Grand Rapids than he was in Brainerd, judging from the Magnet of that place which says: "Until Canfield took hold of the town and boomed it it was not making any great strides onward and to his indomitable energy is due the fact that Grand Rapids has attained the development she has." Are there any watches in sight?

The Unfortunates.

Pat Sullivan was up before the police court Wednesday morning, charged with stealing a silver watch, valued at $8, and as he was unable to make the court believe that it was a put up job on him he was sent over to the city jail for a term of days in default of the required $25 fine.

Mrs. Mattie Winters was one of the unfortunate human beings which the police swooped down upon on Tuesday night, and she occupied a reserved seat in the police court on Wednesday morning. The charge against her was for keeping a house of ill-fame, and her fine was fixed at $25 and costs or forty days in jail. Her bank account being overdrawn she was committed and will celebrate her 4th of July behind the bars.

Florence Eldridge, a member of the frat sisterhood from Hillsboro, N. Dakota, was fined $10 and costs yesterday afternoon for being a frequenter. The woman managed to get roaring drunk during the night by means of whisky passed in through the grates and her case could not be considered until afternoon on account of her condition.

Billy McGlory, on the charge of being a vagrant, was given twenty days in the city jail.

John Kinney, for paying a visit to the red-curtain dives on Tuesday night, was fined $11.75 on Wednesday morning.

John Flynn, better known as "Blinky," was given a sentence of 40 days in jail or $50 fine for assaulting a man on Wednesday. Owing to a deficiency in his savings bank account he lies in jail.

J. McHenry, John Smith and Frank Hurdy are three more who will celebrate the national holiday behind the bars, the two former for looking upon the wine in its rosate hue, and the latter for frequenting a house of ill-fame.

Kefford and His Nerve.

J. W. Kefford, the young man who forged C. B. Thompson's name to checks in this city some days ago, appears to be having first-rate luck in his line of business. Kefford was quite well-known in this city, and up to the time of his crookedness in that matter was discovered he was considered to be an honest young man. From this city he went to Superior where he passed four forged checks on parties there, and went over the bay and worked Duluth to about the same extent. The officers of the law were after him, but he seems to be under a charm for he turned up at St. Cloud on Thursday of last week and passed a forged check of $15 on an unsuspecting hotel clerk, and in each instance he uses his own name. From St. Cloud he wandered down to St. Paul, and the Journal gives the following account of what he done there:

B. F. Stahl, general agent of the Etina Insurance Company of St. Paul, has been swindled out of $40 by a youth from Brainerd, J. W. Kefford by name. Last Saturday Kefford was in St. Paul and applied for a position in the Etina office displaying letters of recommendation from well-known Brainerd people. He was given the local agency at Brainerd, and last Monday called at Mr. Stahl's office ready for duty. He said he was rather short of funds and Mr. Stahl advanced him $10, giving a check for the amount. The newly appointed agent then departed. Thursday Mr. Stahl discovered that three checks had been paid to J. W. Kefford, his new agent. One was $10 and the other two for $15 each. Mr. Stahl had signed but one check, and of course the other two were forgeries. He immediately telegraphed to Brainerd, but could get no trace of Kefford, other than that the man was known there and looked upon as a rascal. Mr. Stahl was in Minneapolis yesterday looking for his man.

A New Firm.

J. M. Elder has purchased a half interest in Gergen's livery business, and the style of the firm is Gergen & Elder. The firm have one of the finest barns in Northern Minnesota, without any exception, and in the future as in the past they will endeavor to furnish the public with fine turnouts and rigs. Several new horses are expected soon.

The Germania Maennerchor will give a grand ball on the evening of July 24th.

The Journal has advice from headquarters that the improvements at the shops will be completed this fall without fail.

A lad named Iver Mohle was seriously injured at Deerwood on Saturday last, by falling from a hand car while in motion.

Mrs. John King, aged 70 years, died on Saturday night of paralysis, the funeral occurring on Monday. Rev. Fr. Lawlor officiating.

On Tuesday evening the wedding of Neil McKay and Miss Carrie Hill occurred at the residence of Rev. Fr. Lawlor. A reception and banquet took place at the Lumberman's Exchange hotel after the ceremony. Both parties are well known to our readers and they have the congratulations of a large circle of friends.

James Callahan and Miss Mary Slocum were united in marriage in this city on Tuesday evening and departed on a wedding trip on the night train. The groom is a popular Northern Pacific engineer, and the bride is a very estimable young lady of this city, and they have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Several peculiar incidents occurred in connection with the railroad picnic of Saturday last. In the rush to get aboard at Detroit for the home run a six-year-old daughter of the drayman at that place got into the crowd somehow and aboard the cars and came to Brainerd. The police found her behind the hose house asleep and took care of her until Sunday night when she was sent home to her anxious parents. Another incident is related when a Brainerd gentleman left his baby asleep in its carriage on the depot steps at Detroit and did not miss the infant until he got to Perham where he got off and went back after the baby.

These Are Licensed.

At a special meeting of the city council on Tuesday evening fourteen liquor license bonds were approved. This makes twenty-two saloons that have taken out license for the coming year, the standstaying in the following people's names: Moberg & Swanson, Jno. A. Denis, R. R. Wise, Jas. McCabe, McCabe, Heamore & Co., H. Sargent, Ed. Cullen & Co., Jerry Crowley, Wallace & Jameson, Geo. H. Bell, Con. O'Brien, Geo. Gardner, Geo. Merriott, Chas. Peterson, Sophia Wilson, L. W. Chase, Parsons & Swanson, Jno. S. Fry, J. A. Murray, J. H. Kelehan, Jno. Bubar and Jerome Kelleher. There are three saloons which will not take out license, the No. 1, on Fifth street, "The Kids Place," on Sixth street, and M. Cullen's saloon in East Brainerd.

We have it from a reliable source that a colony of sixty-five German families are about to locate on lands lying north and east of Deerwood in this county.

Having Up Hill Work.

The Salvation Army people at Anoka and Northfield are having a hard time of it. The Herald of the former place says that "during the last few months no public scandal has transpired in that city without bringing into disreputable prominence the Salvation Army. The result is not conducive to good morals in every instance, therefore, and the existing state of affairs is a problem which should be speedily solved by all promoters of the public welfare." The Northfield News says:

For several years past members of the Salvation Army have lived in Northfield and held meetings on the street corners and at their barracks. At first the peculiarities of these people attracted crowds to their meetings which were several times disturbed by boys and young men resulting in law suits, the costs being generally borne by the city. The police have always had a watchful eye on the meetings, but have been unable to prevent them from being a disturbance to the people living in the neighborhood of the barracks. While we have the greatest respect for objects sought to be gained by the work of the Army, we do believe that their methods of work are open to severe adverse criticism. The Army in Northfield has been reinforced lately by a man known as "Joe the Turk," who insisted that the bass drum should be used during the street parades in opposition to the orders of the city mayor. On Wednesday evening the noise of the drum caused a runaway and when the police attempted to stop the Army playing the drum they were resisted and the Turk was locked up in the city jail, but nothing was done in regard to the matter and he was released in the morning. When the actions of the Salvation Army may have for an object seems to have been lost sight of in this struggle between lawlessness and the city authorities.

Frost & Kelehan dissolved partnership in the saloon business some two weeks ago, Mr. Frost retiring.

Frank Whitaker severely sprained his foot at the picnic on Saturday while performing a high jump.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the lumber king, will go to Alaska soon to look over the timber interests there.

In Anoka county the sheriff has appointed his wife as deputy and it is claimed she attends to the duties of the office in a very able manner.

Several of Brainerd's expert trapshooters are in attendance at the Motley shooting tournament which is in progress to-day and will close to-morrow.

Aitkin was visited by a destructive fire on Friday, six buildings being burned. With one exception the property was fully insured and all will be rebuilt.

Mr. Joseph Swartz and Mrs. McCarthy, of East Brainerd, were united in marriage at Detroit on Saturday last. Mr. Swartz is the foreman at Parker & Topping's foundry.

The Grand Rapids Magnet says that Mrs. Geo. S. Canfield and son reached Grand Rapids on Tuesday evening's train, and will make their home there in the future.

The fines of the past month in the police court amounted to $684, and of that amount $550 was paid in by the creatures of easy virtue who inhabit that part of the city near the bridge.

The Y. P. S. C. E., of the First Congregational church, will give an ice cream social at the residence of Miss Maud Henstis, on Fourth street north, this (Friday) evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

All the usual devices for games which have been stored in this city since the mayor's edict went forth were brought out and dusted this week and distributed among the various towns between here and Fargo for a 4th of July benefit.

It is understood that the Little Falls roller mills will not be rebuilt, at least by the original company. While some of the best flour manufactured comes from that city it is said that the mills have been losing money.

According to the Journal Press the early closing movement of the stores in St. Cloud is a thing of the past so far as the grocery, confectionery, shoe and clothing stores are concerned. The dry goods merchants seem to be the only ones able to hold to the agreement.

Colonel Geo. Canfield is better appreciated in Grand Rapids than he was in Brainerd, judging from the Magnet of that place which says: "Until Canfield took hold of the town and boomed it it was not making any great strides onward and to his indomitable energy is due the fact that Grand Rapids has attained the development she has." Are there any watches in sight?

The Brainerd Boat Club have arranged for a celebration at their grounds at Rice Lake to-morrow afternoon. In the forenoon at 10 o'clock a grand parade of horrors and rag muffins will take place through the principal streets. The afternoon sports will consist of boating, steamboat races, dancing, etc. The grounds have been fixed up and everything is in nice shape. Buses will run to the boat landing from the bank corner during the afternoon to accommodate those who desire to attend.

The Unfortunates.

Pat Sullivan was up before the police court Wednesday morning, charged with stealing a silver watch, valued at $8, and as he was unable to make the court believe that it was a put up job on him he was sent over to the city jail for a term of days in default of the required $25 fine.

Mrs. Mattie Winters was one of the unfortunate human beings which the police swooped down upon on Tuesday night, and she occupied a reserved seat in the police court on Wednesday morning. The charge against her was for keeping a house of ill-fame, and her fine was fixed at $25 and costs or forty days in jail. Her bank account being overdrawn she was committed and will celebrate her 4th of July behind the bars.

Floesie Eldridge, a member of the frail sisterhood from Hillsboro, N. Dakota, was fined $10 and costs yesterday afternoon for being a frequenter. The woman managed to get roaring drunk during the night by means of whiskey passed in through the grates and her case could not be considered until afternoon on account of her condition.

Billy McGlory, on the charge of being a vagrant, was given twenty days in the city jail.

John Kinney, for paying a visit to the red-curtain dives on Tuesday night, was fined $11.75 on Wednesday morning.

John Flynn, better known as "Blinky," was given a sentence of 40 days in jail or $50 fine for assaulting a man on Wednesday. Owing to a deficiency in his savings bank account he lies in jail.

J. McHenry, John Smith and Frank Hurdy are three more who will celebrate the national holiday behind the bars, the two former for looking upon the wine in its rosyate hue, and the latter for frequenting a house of ill-fame.

Kefford and His Nerve.

J. W. Kefford, the young man who forged C. B. Thompson's name to checks in this city some days ago, appears to be having first-rate luck in his line of business. Kefford was quite well-known in this city, and up to the time of his crookedness in that matter was discovered he was considered to be an honest young man. From this city he went to Superior where he passed four forged checks on parties there, and went over the bay and worked Duluth to about the same extent. The officers of the law were after him, but he seems to be under a charm for he turned up at St. Cloud on Thursday last week and passed a forged check of $15 on an unsuspecting hotel clerk, and in each instance he uses his own name. From St. Cloud he wandered down to St. Paul, and the Journal gives the following account of what he done there:

B. F. Stahl, general agent of the Etna Insurance Company, of St. Paul, has been swindled out of $40 by a youth from Brainerd, J. W. Kefford by name. Last Saturday Kefford was in St. Paul and applied for a position in the Etna office, displaying letters of recommendation from well-known Brainerd people. He was given the local agency at Brainerd, and last Monday called at Mr. Stahl's office ready for duty. He said he was rather short of funds and Mr. Stahl advanced him $10, giving a check for the amount. The newly appointed agent then departed. Thursday Mr. Stahl discovered that three checks had been paid to J. W. Kefford, his new agent. One was $10 and the other two for $15 each. Mr. Stahl had signed both one check, and of course the other two were forgeries. He immediately telegraphed to Brainerd, but could get no trace of Kefford, other than that the man was known there and looked upon as a rascal. Mr. Stahl was in Minneapolis yesterday looking for his man.

A New Firm.

J. M. Elder has purchased a half interest in Gergen's livery business, and the style of the firm is Gergen & Elder. The firm have one of the finest barns in Northern Minnesota, without any exception, and in the future as in the past they will endeavor to furnish the public with fine turnouts and rigs. Several new horses are expected soon.

The Germania Maennerchor will give a grand ball on the evening of July 24th.

The Journal has advice from headquarters that the improvements at the shops will be completed this fall without fail.

A lad named Iver Mohle was seriously injured at Deerwood on Saturday last, by falling from a hand car while in motion.

Mrs. John King, aged 70 years, died on Saturday night of paralysis, the funeral occurring on Monday, Rev. Fr. Lawlor officiating.

On Tuesday evening the wedding of Neil McKay and Miss Carrie Hill occurred at the residence of Rev. Fr. Lawlor. A reception and banquet took place at the Lumberman's Exchange hotel after the ceremony. Both parties are well known to our readers and they have the congratulations of a large circle of friends.

James Callahan and Miss Mary Slocum were united in marriage in this city on Tuesday evening and departed on a wedding trip on the night train. The groom is a popular Northern Pacific engineer, and the bride is a very estimable young lady of this city, and they have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Several peculiar incidents occurred in connection with the railroad picnic of Saturday last. In the rush to get aboard at Detroit for the home run a six-year-old daughter of the drayman at that place got into the crowd somehow and aboard the cars and came to Brainerd. The police found her behind the hose house asleep and took care of her until Sunday night when she was sent home to her anxious parents. Another incident is related when a Brainerd gentleman left his baby asleep in its carriage on the depot steps at Detroit and did not miss the infant until he got to Perham where he got off and went back after the baby.

These Are Licensed.

At a special meeting of the city council on Tuesday evening fourteen liquor license bonds were approved. This makes twenty-two saloons that have taken out license for the coming year, the same standing in the following people's names: Moberg & Swanson, Jno. A. Denis, R. R. Wise, Jas. McCabe, McCabe, Heamore & Co., H. Sargent, Ed. Cullen & Co., Jerry Crowley, Wallace & Jameson, Geo. H. Bell, Con. O'Brien, Geo. Gardner, Geo. Merriott, Chas. Peterson, Sophia Wilson, L. W. Chase, Parsons & Swanson, Jno. S. Fry, J. A. Murray, J. H. Kelehan, Jno. Bubar and Jerome Kelleher. There are three saloons which will not take out license, the No. 1, on Fifth street, "The Kids Place," on Sixth street, and M. Cullen's saloon in East Brainerd.

We have it from a reliable source that a colony of sixty-five German families are about to locate on lands lying north and east of Deerwood in this county.

Having Up Hill Work.

The Salvation Army people at Anoka and Northfield are having a hard time of it. The Herald of the former place says that "during the last few months no public scandal has transpired in that city without bringing into disreputable prominence the Salvation Army. The result is not conducive to good morals in every instance, therefore, and the existing state of affairs is a problem which should be speedily solved by all promoters of the public welfare." The Northfield News says:

For several years past members of the Salvation Army have lived in Northfield and held meetings on the street corners and at their barracks. At first the peculiarities of these people attracted crowds to their meetings which were several times disturbed by boys and young men resulting in law suits, the costs being generally borne by the city. The police have always had a watchful eye on the meetings, but have been unable to prevent them from being a disturbance to the people living in the neighborhood of the barracks. While we have the greatest respect for objects sought to be gained by the work of the Army, we do believe that their methods of work are open to severe adverse criticism. The Army in Northfield has been reinforced lately by a man known as "Joe the Turk," who insisted that the bass drum should be used during the street parades, in opposition to the orders of the city mayor. On Wednesday evening the noise of the drum caused a runaway and when the police attempted to stop the Army playing the drum they were resisted and the Turk was locked up in the city jail, but nothing was done in regard to the matter and he was released in the morning. When the actions of the Salvation Army become a nuisance it should be suppressed. Another disgraceful scene took place on Mill Square Thursday evening when the police officers took the drum away from the Army. The drum was being used contrary to orders from the mayor. Mayor Norton was publicly insulted by these people and it appears to be a question of whether this town is to be controlled by the Salvation Army or whether the city authorities have something to say in regard to the management of the city. Any religious work which the Salvation Army may have for an object seems to have been lost sight of in this struggle between lawlessness and the city authorities.

These Are Licensed.

At a special meeting of the city council on Tuesday evening fourteen liquor license bonds were approved. This makes twenty-two saloons that have taken out license for the coming year, the same standing in the following people's names: Moberg & Swanson, Jno. A. Denis, R. R. Wise, Jas. McCabe, McCabe, Heamore & Co., H. Sargent, Ed. Cullen & Co., Jerry Crowley, Wallace & Jaimeson, Geo. H. Bell, Con. O'Brien, Geo. Gardner, Geo. Merriott, Chas. Peterson, Sophia Wilson, L. W. Chase, Parsons & Swanson, Jno. S. Fry, J. A. Murray, J. H. Kelehan, Jno. Bubar and Jerome Kelleher. Having Up Hill Work.

The Salvation Army people at Anoka and Northfield are having a hard time of it. The Herald of the former place says that "during the last few months no public scandal has transpired in that city without bringing into disreputable prominence the Salvation Army. The result is not conducive to good morals in every instance, therefore, and the existing state of affairs is a problem which should be speedily solved by all promoters of the public welfare." The Northfield News says:

For several years past members of the Salvation Army have lived in Northfield and held meetings on the street corners and at their barracks. At first the peculiarities of these people attracted curiosity to their meetings which were several times disturbed by boys and young men resulting in law suits, the costs being generally borne by the city. The police have always had a watchful eye on the meetings, but have been unable to prevent them from being a disturbance to the people living in the neighborhood of the barracks. While we have the greatest respect for objects sought to be gained by the work of the Army, we do believe that their methods of work are open to severe adverse criticism. The Army at Northfield has been reinforced lately by a man known as "Joe the Turk," who insisted that the bass drum should be used during the street parades, in opposition to the orders of the city mayor. On Wednesday evening the noise of the drum caused a runaway and when the police attempted to stop the Army playing the drum they were resisted and the Turk was locked up in the city jail, but nothing was done in regard to the matter and he was released in the morning. When the actions of the Salvation Army become a nuisance it should be suppressed. Another disgraceful scene took place on Mill Square Thursday evening when the police officers took the drum away from the Army. The drum was being used contrary to orders from the mayor. Mayor Norton was publicly insulted by these people and it appears to be a question of whether this town is to be controlled by the Salvation Army or whether the mayor and the city council have something to say in regard to the management of the city. Any religious work which the Salvation Army may have for an object seems to have been lost sight of in this struggle between lawlessness and the city authorities.
